Jefferson State FLIXX FEST Postponed

September 9, 2021

FORT JONES, CA

The Siskiyou County Film Commission regrets to announce the postponement of the 2021 Jefferson State FLIXX FEST.

The situation with wildfire in the community has reached a point where the resources and focus of the community are best served by supporting one another, and the brave men and women fighting the fire.

“We are absolutely saddened about postponing the Film Festival and Annual Awards Dinner but the needs of the community come first.” Said Festival Director Megan Peterson, “Our hearts go out to everyone being affected by these fires and COVID.”

The Festival and Awards Dinner committees will be reaching out to ticket purchasers for coordinating refunds.

Nestled in historic Scott Valley among the majesty of far Northern California’s Marble Mountains, the Jefferson State FLIXX FEST proudly claims to be the premier film festival of the "mythical" 51st State of Jefferson. The festival represents a stand for fiercely independent cinema and is committed to showcasing films and screenplays that capture some of the Jefferson State’s iconic values: beauty, landscape, vision and freedom, in whatever storytelling form that takes.

More information about the Festival can be obtained at the event’s website www.FLIXXFEST.org or by calling 530-468-2888.
